

By the third week in February, crude prices in 2007 were three cents per gallon below 2006

With crude down three cents per gallon from 2006, the average pump price in California is twenty-four cents per gallon higher in 2007

